Supervisors Asked To Cut Salaries Of County Officials

Tax Payers Committee Petitions For 20 Per Cent And Reduction of government Costs

A group of tax payers, mostly farmers from the southern part of the county, organized as the Nevada County Tax committee appeared before the board of supervisors, and appealed for a general cut in all county official salaries of 20 per cent.

C. J. Rolph (no relation to the Governor and glad of it) was chairman and spokesman of the committee. After reading the petition asking the supervisors and the assembled heads of all county departments to co-operate in a general slash of salaries and county expenses, Mr. Rolph stated that the farmers had reached a point where they could no longer meet the present cost of government as reflected in tax bills.

He announced the willingness of the committee to raise salaries the moment prices for commodities advanced, but believed that county officials should take their cuts along with the farmer and with all men who worked for salaries or wages.

Sheriff George Carter declared that his office could not be conducted with less than the two deputies he now has. He stated the work has greatly increased since the old days when the salary was fixed. He said if he had to dismiss his two present aids and offer salaries around $60, he might just as well hire children.

Dr. A. H. Tickell, county physician, stated that the $1500 a year reecived by him was fixed as a result of bidding for the office a good many years ago. Since that time, and especially during the present depression the duties of this office have greatly increased. He must spend two hours a day at the county hospital which now houses, instead of the 40 persons in normal times, 70 men and women.

Assessor J. M. Hammill declared that the work of his office in recent years has greatly increased particularly that part of it dealing with personal property accounts which due to the automobile has multiplied that part of his business three times.

Recorder S. J. Clark stated that a decrease in his office help would really mean an increase in the expenses of his office.

Dr. Tickell stressed the fact that as long as he had lived in Nevada county, the farmers had always been in trouble. The reason, he believed, was that this county is not really an agricultural county. In other words the chief industry of the county is mining.

To this Mr. Rolph replied that the State Chamber of Commerce listed the county as agricultural ,and that there were communities within the county which were wholly agricultural. In any event, the farmers, he stated were paying two dollars in taxes for every dollar collected from other sources.

Asked for a copy of his petition to the supervisors Mr. Rolph for publication in the Nugget, Mr. Rolph stated he had forgotten to have one made.

The supervisors took the petition under consideration.

MOTOR DEATHS MAINLY DUE SPEED, SAYS CATO

SACRAMENTO, Aur. 3—Proving beyond a doubt that excessive speed is the prime factor in fatal accidents on the highways, the California Highway Patrol today made public the results of an analysis of auto accidents occurring in California last year showing that while a greater urban areas the percentage of fater number of accidents occurred in alities from the accidents was much greater in the rural areas where the opportunity to speed is greater.

Of the 33,144 accidents during the year, involving either death or injury, 25,033 occurred within the limits of incorporated cities and 8,111 in rural districts.

However the percentage of deaths in accidents in the cities was 4.6 as compared with 12.5 in the rural communities.

" In other words," said the report, "The faster you drive the more likely you are to be killed if an accident occurs."

It is for this reason, according to E. Raymond Cato, Chief of the Patrol, that so much emphasis is being placed on speed limit regulation. More than 50 per cent of the arrests made within the last eight months are for speed law violations.

Sad Story Bolsters Bill Against Mixed Marriages

SACRAMENTO, April 3—Senator Herbert C. Jones, Santa Clara, told a pathetic story while urging passage of his anti-Philipino-white marriage bill. His father, he said, moved from New England to the midwest and, at the pleading of a southern gentleman, took an octaroon girl along with his family. In Iowa the girl was placed in a well-to-do-family. She was beautiful and there was no apparent trace of the negroid strain in her blood. Eventually she fell in love with a worthy and ambitious young man. They became engaged.

When the engagement became known, Jones' father and her foster parents, felt it their duty to advise the young man of his fiancee's antecedents. The revelation broke off the romance and the girl's life was virtually ruined. "There is no place in this country for the offsprings of mixed marriages," Senator Jones said. "Such tragedies as this would be largely averted if inter-racial marriages were prevented."

Nugget Opens A Straw Ballot On Pool Fund

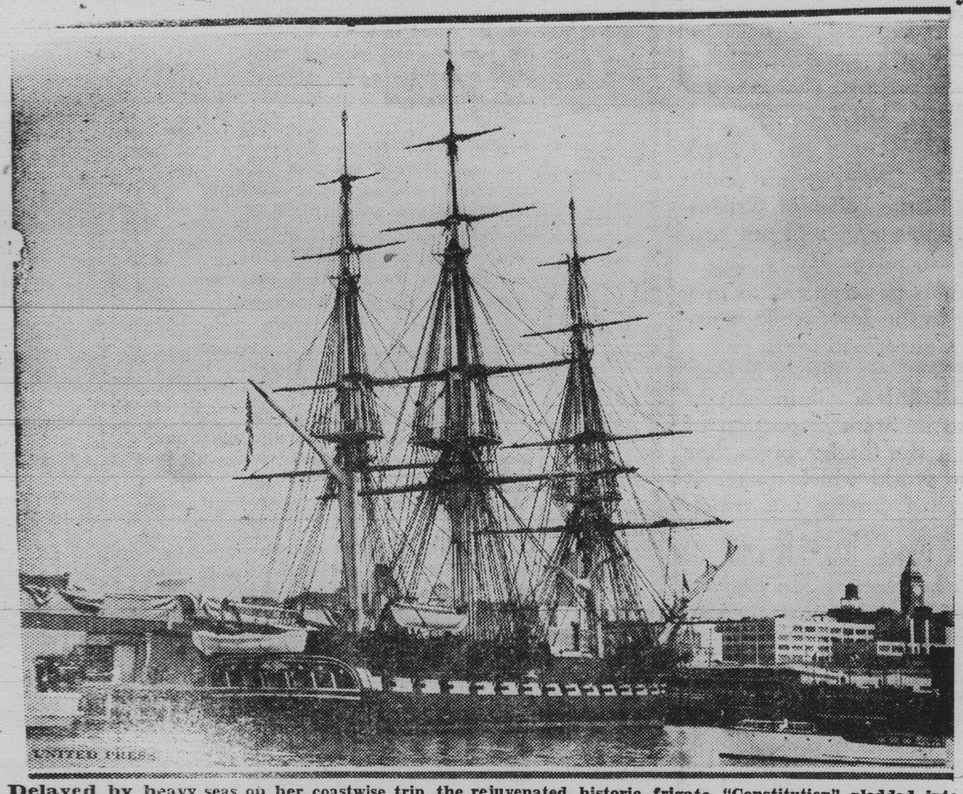

The wide interest taken in the proposal to transfer by a two thirds vote of the city's electorate, the swimming pool fund of $11,000 to the city's water fund for the purpose of making repairs and replacements imperatively needed in water pipes and mains, leads the Nugget to offer all voters a chance to take part in a straw ballot. The following ballot may be cut out, marked, mailed to, or left at the Nugget office. No names of voters, if known, will be divulged. The results will be announced progressively in each issue of the Nugget.

To transfer the Swimming Pool Fund of $11,000 to the city water Fund, for use in repairing the city's water system.

Historic Frigate Docks in San Francisco Bay

Delayed by heavy seas on her coastwise trip, the rejuvenated historic frigate "Constitution" plodded into San Francisco bay for a visit of several weeks. "Old Ironsides" is shown docked with a portion of San Francisco's skyline and the Ferry Building in the background.

Old Ironsides Boarded By Throng Of 20,000

Nevada City's contingent of 70 boys, girls and grownups, joining Nevada County's delegation of 200 more, and finally pouring into a 20,000 throng at San Francisco, whence all roads led last Saturday, saw Old Ironsides and all report a "grand and glorious" time. There were some moments when it seemed as if the famous old war ship, had met at last its conqueror, in the form of wave on wave of assaulting school boys.

The police were not always pleasant in the discipline they maintained over the throngs, but once aboard, Bob Paine, Narrow Gauge Railway manager of the excursion from this city, reports that the crew members were specially courteous and helpful. In addition to the services of the crew there was a public address system which enabled vistors to understand the various uses of the equipment they saw, and which gave a historical sketch of Old Ironsides.

The party of four boys who earned their trip to see the great old ship by selling subscriptions to the Nugget had a bang up time. Albert Pratti, Nathaniel Robins, and Bob Tamblyn saw Old Ironsides in the morning, then tied them over to Berkeley where they watched a huge track meet in the new Edwards oval, and then back to San Francisco where they spent the night in the Y. M. C. A. returning to Nevada City yesterday afternoon.

Young Jimmy Nankervis, vetern news carrier for the Nugget, was met in San Francisco by his aunt. He had a very full day and boarded the train tired but satisfied.

In other parties of school youngsters from other cities and counties strange things happened. One party of boys in charge of their teacher, visited Golden Gate park. A boy was missed when it was time to catch the ferry. Search proved unavailing and finally the police were called in. They found his spoor presently. The boy had become sick after eating accumulated sweets and new foods, had cleared his stomach, and then laid down under a bush and gone to sleep. The party took a very late train home.

Another party escorted by teachers, after seeing Old Ironsides went out to Fleishhackers Zoo, allowing an hour an a quarter for the trip back to the ferry. The return trip required nearly two hours, with the street car service congested. A train was held at Oakland and they reached home long after midnight, though they were only three hours run from San Francisco.

The Nevada City party returned yesterday at 2:30 o'clock in the morning. Everybody voted the excursion a great success.

HOGE DEVELOPMENT CO. BUYS HARMONY CLAIMS

The Hoge Development Company has acquired the Harmony mining property on Washington Ridge consisting of about 200 acres. The property was formerly worked by a Nevada City company which worked out the gravel channel. Interesting specimens of quartz were found in the gravle and it is believed that important discoverise will be made on this property.

Hoge workings adjoining the old Harmony claims are much deeper than the early gravel mining. The cemented gravel in former days was crushed in a stamp mill and run over amagamators to recover the gold, which ran as high as $10 per ton.

Prefers Senator's Word Definition to Webster

SACRAMENTO, April 3—(UP)—Senator Charles H. Deuel, veteran legislator and Chico publisher, is the senate "dictionary." A puzzled colleague turned to the publisher the other day and asked the meaning of "lackadaisical." Offhand, "the senator replied, "I should say it was the name of a stenographer."

Later on, during discussion of a bill, the question arose as to the definition of "affinity." Senator Will R. Sharkey suggested "a relationship by marriage."

"May I," offered Senator Deuel, "offer an amendment—namely that the word affinity applies also to relationships other than by marriage." "Well," returned Sharkey, "I'll stick with Webster." Senator W. P. Rich, Marysville, chipped in: "And I will stick with the senate dictionary."

GRADE CROSSINGS COST STATE 21 MILLIONS

SACRAMENTO, April 3—(UP)—California's state government, cities and railroad companies have spent $21,000,000 in keeping highways and railroads apart—and an additional $40,499,000 sholud be expended.

These are the highlights of a joint report of the state railroad commission and the division of highways on railroad grade crossings.

"At the beginning of 1932 there were 580 grade separations in the state 427 of which represent an expenditure of about $21,000,000. The other 153 grade separations were affected by passing under existing bridges and trestles. These separations were financed 55 per cent by the railroads, 20 per cent by cities, 12 per cent by counties and 13 per cent by state funds," the report said.

According to Stewart Mirchell, division construction engineer of bridges, there are 12,099 grade crossings in the state over main and branch line railroads. Of these, 464 are considered Class 1, or most dangerous and it is estimated it would cost $40,499,000 to separate their grades.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Stine are glad to welcome them home again after a six months absence in the bay region and southern California.

Misses Amy and Stella Davies have as visitors their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Davies, of Alleghany.

Gus Wasley and John Sbaffi were among those who visited Old Ironsides in the bay region.

MURCHIE MINE CREW NOW 200

There are about 200 men working two shifts in the Murchie mine, with a good sized tonnage of ore being milled with three shifts working in the mill.

They are stoping in the 1,150 and 1,300 foot tunnels and two drifts are being run from the 1,450 foot level. They are also drifting on the 1,600 foot level since the Newmont Mining Company took over the Murchie mine on January first 1932, they have sunk the main shaft 300 feet, opened another shaft to the surface, and made many changes and additions to the machinery.

George Kirvin is superintendent of the mine.

SWIMMING POOL FUND VOTE, COUNCIL TOPIC

Meeting at a special session Saturday evening, the city council discussed again the plan of calling for an election on the proposal to transfer the swimming pool fund to the water system and use for repairing and replacing water mains.

It was revealed that some members of the council are doubtful whether the required two thirds vote could be obtained. It was suggested that a postal card vote be taken first to ascertain the sentiment of the voters. No decision on this question was reached. The entire matter was laid over until the regular meeting of the board Thursday night.

The board was unanimous upon the question of repairs to the water mains. It was agreed that, regardless of what is done with the swimming pool fund, the water system must be placed in a serviceable condition.

PRICES OF GAME HIGH AT THIS RESTAURANT

SACRAMENTO, April 3—(UP)—Economists are all wrong when they say rising prices indicate a return to prosperity, in the belief of Angus Ross, local cafe man.

Statg eame wardens visited his place of business and found fourteen ducks and four pheasants in the icebox.

French Cabinet Favors Four Power Peace Pact

PARIS, April 3—The French Cabinet today announced its willingness to accept Premier Mussolini's four power peace pact proposals as a basis for further discussions of European disarmanent. At the conclusion of its meeting the cabinet announced its intention of sending a memorandum to London, Berlin and Rome, agreeing in principal to the Mussolini suggestions as a basis for a four-power discussion of present problems.

LOVE'S LABOR LOST IN THIS TOUR OF CAPITOL

SACRAMENTO, April 3—(UP)—Strangres visiting the state capitol henceforth will be without the service of a very competent unofficial guide.

Jack Stafford, veteran clerk of the third district court of appeal, saw a party of ten women and two men touring the Buildings. Voluntarily, he escorted them through the various offices, explaining at length the activities conducted in each, and relating many amusing anecdotes.

After they had departed, Stafford laerned the group was a naturalization class from a San Juaquin valley district and neither spoke nor understood English.

Southern Senator Wants Unshaken Coast Line

SACRAMENTO, April 3—(UP)—Senator Stow was urging passage of a bill providing the coast line of California shall be as defined and established by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic survey, when he was interrupted by Senator J. W. McKinley, Los Angeles.

"Will it," inquired the Los Angeles solon, just returned from the quake area, "establish it so firmly it won't shake? If so I'm sure for your bill."

MISFORTUNES VISIT SATINELLI FAMILY

Mrs. Victor Santinelli of Long street, lost her husban a few months ago. Then Henry Santinelli, a son who was experimenting with a new motor cycle, suffered a serious injury to his leg which will confine him to his home for two or three weeks more.

And a daughter, Miss Irma Santinelli. who is a strong robust girl, and who had been playing all day, was suddenly stricken Saturday evening with acute appendicitis and was rushed to the Nevada City Sanitarium at about 10 o'clock where Dr. Tickell operated on her. She is getting along as well as can be expected at this time.

FIRE DELEGATES ORDER NEW EQUIPMENT

The board of fire delegates at the March meeting ordered the purchase of a new suction hose, to be used with the fire pump, and a hose bridge. This is a contrivance which permits the departments trucks to drive over the lose laid in the street, without injury to it.

Sometime since the department ordered flares to be used for warning off motorists, who might attempt to run over hose laid from hydrants to the scene of fires. Police protection against the encroachment during fires of sightseers and motorists was afforded recently by an order of the city council.

THE EDITORIAL CIRCUIT RIDER

Reports of Jewish persecution in Germany no doubt have been considerably exaggerated, in the belief of California editors, but all are agreed the world at large will not condone Chancellor Hitler's anti-Semitic boycott policy.

Declaring it is idle for the German government to protest against misrepresentation relative to the Jews while maintaining a censorship, the Bakersfield Californian said:

"The very censorship which has been established in Germany and which has resulted in the ruthless elimination of many newspaper properties and in an insistent inspection of the dispatches of all correspondents for the foreign press, has created an impression throughout the world which makes it possible not only to accept the reports of cruelty, but which tends to emphasize them."

"Anti-Semistism is a mania with Hitler and his followers, impossible to explain," says the Chico Record. "Its cruelty is only equalled by its folly. For centuries many of the greatest Germans have been Jews. The Jews have outlived many nations and races. History shows no parallel in racial tenacity and continuing force and talent. Oppressed, they still survive and flourish. They have prospered in many lands. Those who have persecuted and exiled them have seldom prospered."

"Hitler, with unprecedented dictatorial power, may apply the mailed fist in Germany," remarks the Stockton Record, "but he cannot counteance Jewish persecutions without running afoul of foreign opinion. Germany cannot afford to defy that opinion, nor can it risk retaliation in the form of threatened economic boycotts."

"Think how foolish is Hitler's boycott!" comments the Oroville Mercury Register. "It will cause new misery in Germany not only to the Jews but to others, disorganizing industry that to considerable extent depends on an even tenor of business in Germany. It will stimulate Jews everywhere to retaliate against Germany, and through their varied financial interests the retaliation can be made of crushing effect upon German manufacturers."

"There are not the slighest semblance of excuse for the brutal treatment of the Jews by the Nazis," said the Los Angeles Daily News. "Jewish statesmen have taken an active part in German reconstruction. Hitler may live to regret the outrages. He may need the support of the Jews before long."

Extending its sympathy to all racial and political victims of "Hitler barbarism," The San Francisco News concludes:

"We sympathize also with the mass of German citizens who have been fortunate enough to escape the terror so far, but who will pay in the end for the sins of the counter-revolutionary government which has seized power. Unfortunately the world does not differentiate between governments and people. Germany and the Germans will be blamed long after Hitler is gone. So Germany is twice victim: the victim of Hitler and the victim of world opinion."

SPROUL DEFENDS U. C.

"Maintaining the Standards of California's University" will be the subject of a special message from Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, President of the University of California, when he speaks in a radio broadcast Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock over station KPO.

In his talk Sproul is expected to present facts and figures showing the economy of operation of the University, its needs, and the danger which threatens it from drastically reduced support.

"I have abiding faith that the people of California will not permit the destruction of their university," says President Sproul. "The issue which the University presents is not economy versus extravagance. That question is settled as far as we are concerned. Long before the legislature met, the University had plumped for real economy and was shrinking itself to dimensions appropriate to presimonious times.

"We present to the legislature and the people of California the issue of an economical university of high quality versus a shoddy university not worth the money expended upon it. In the achievement and administration of genuine economy, we stand ready to cooperate fully and enthusiastically, without any mental reservation whatsoever. To agree to the program of bogus economy in which we are asked to compromise would be no less than social treason.

"Recognizing clearly the dire economic facts that we face, cognizant fully of the urgent need for retrenchment in the total cost of our governmental activities, I cannot, nevertheless, reconcile myself to the disorderly and unscientific assault which is now being made on the higher education of our state and, particularly, on the public financial support of its university.

"Under the present proposed legislative appropriations for 1933-35 the University's income will be so diminished that it will be unable to maintain for education and research that long-swing perspective which sound economy demands."

Giants in our Day Too

Dedicated to the Miners of Nevada County

There were men to match our mountains
In the golden yesteryear;
Men of dauntless faith and courage,
Men who knew no sense of fear.
Oft we stand in meditation
By some empty, haunted mine,
Just remembering the giants
And the days of forty nine.

O, the gallant forty niner,
Gay, red shirted, bearded, bold!
Counting toil and danger nothing
In his reckless search for gold.
Founding here a regal empire,
With a purpose firm and true;
Building for the unknown future—
Building better than he knew.

Has the age of romance vanished?
Are the heroes gone for aye?
No; for in this little city,
You'll be meeting one to day
Just a well known friend and neighbor,
Scion of the brood of old,
In his eyes the fire of courage,
In his heart the lure of gold.

O, the sturdy modern miner,
Brave as any famed of old!
Just as faithful and courageous
In his ardent search for gold;
Building as his fathers builded,
Where the tide of empire flows;
Building for the unknown future—
Building better than he knows.

A. MERRIAM CONNER.

WEEKLY COMMENT

CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

Nevada City the Gateway to the mountain playgrounds.

A load of lumber was brought this morning to fig up a bar room in Nevada City. A crew of carpenters are busy fixing the room. That puts money into circulation right here. That is what a little beer can do.

Sign in a window. Help prevent fires.

Much has been said about the Judd case in Arizona and while the writer does not feel that the woman should go unpunished, still, there are some things which humanity should inherently shrink from doing. It does seem that the hanging of a woman by the neck until dead should be one of them.

Carmel by the sea breaks into the head lines again.

This time it is a arts ball at Del Monte which it is said will rival the one given in Paris. From the list of guests invited one gains the knowledge that a galaxy of stars of the art and literary world will be there. Having lived in the community long enough to know nearly all of them I feel like predicting that it will be the party of parties. It is good to loosen up once in awhile and let out a good healthy whoop.

The Jews and the Germans are at it again with the Germans evidently in power over the Jews. No particuar good can come of such things and it is hoped that soon these differences will be adjusted for the good of all concerned.

There ought soon to be an accellerated business in rye bread and cheese. It really seems that this legal beer business reaches out into all the avenues of business with beneficial influences, and anyway rye and cheese is not so bad any time.

As this is being written there seems to be a new high note in the whirr of business. Cars go by faster and the tempo of buying is evidently faster. May it long continue in a healthy normal way.

It is rumored that the city is contemplating the fixing of the very bad bumps in Sacramento street and also the ones on Broad street below the postoffice. It is hoped this rumore will turn out to be true because those streets are poor advertisements for the town, to anyone coming in from the outside.

Whether we like it or not a swimming pool will be an asset to the city and some way ought to be figured out whereby we can have both the pool and the water mains fixed without jeopardizing either project. Surely there is a way to do this and there must be enough men with the welfare of the town at heart to come forward with a workable plan.

PROBATION LAW AIMS TO REDEEM, NOT PUNISH

SACRAMENTO, April 3—(UP)—With the "redemption" of first time offenders as its chief objective, California's progressive probation laws are enabling nearly 20,000 persons, including 11,343 children, to stage a come-back in the eyes of society.

In Nevada county there are now on probation nine boys; six girls; 13 men; and no women-prisoners, according to a report filed with Governor James Rolph, Jr., today by Mrs. Rheba Crawford Splivalo, director of social welfare.

According to Mrs. Splivalo, the strict enforcement of probation laws represents one of the most important considerations in dealing with the state's crime problem, particularly the youthful embroyo criminal.

"The probation law," she said, "enables a person to redeem himself, and to again become useful and law-abiding citizens without serving jail terms or without being labeled as an ex-convict. It is also an important economy measure, inasmuch as the cost of maintaining those persons now on probation in either state institutions or county jails would be staggering.

STATE MAY TAKE OVER 20 MILES OF ROAD HERE

Nevada county will have approximately 20 miles of road taken over by the State as part of the State Highway System if the Legislature adopts recommendations presented in a report by the State Department of Public Works, according to an analysis by the California State Automobile Association.

The report was made at the direction of the Legislature in connection with a plan for expanding the State Highway System as a means of relieving taxation in counties and cities for road and street purposes. Addition of a total of 6,600 miles of county roads and through routes in cities was proposed in legislation introduced by Senator Arthur H. Breed calling for the report.

This highway expansion plan has been jointly developed by representatives of the California State Automobile Association, Automobile Club of Southern California, County Supervisors Association, League of California Municipalities, State Chamber of Commerce, and Highway Protective Committee. These representatives have joined also in opposing diversion of the gasoline tax and other highway fund revenues, taking this position to preserve the present highway financing plan.

Roads in Nevada county recommended by the report for inclusion in the state system are:

From state highway near Colfax to state highway near Grass Valley; approximately 10 miles in Nevada county and 2 miles in Placer county.

From state highway near Truckee to state highway near Blairsden; approximately 10 miles in Nevada county; 28 miles in Sierra county; and 9 miles in Plumas county.

FRENCH CORRAL
MRS. KATE M. SULLIVAN

FRENCH CORRAL Mar. 28—The continuous rain of last night and this afternoon, has given a supply of water that was much needed, both in mining and farming. That old "March lion" has plenty of time yet to awaken to a furious departure.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Flyn of Nevada City in company with their son Henry Flyn and wife of Colfax, visited with friends in French Corral Thursday.

Mrs. A. Browning and Miss Millie Clerkin were visitors in Nevada City and Grass Valley Thursday and Friday.

Dr. Crutchell and Clyde Fogarty of Marysville, called on friends in French Corral Sunday. The gentlemen were enroute to Alleghany.

Mr. M. O'Connor and sister Mrs. Margaret Madden of Birchville made a trip to Grass Valley today to meet their sister Miss Catherine O'Connor who was returning from Sacramento where she had been visiting with friends and relations since last Thursday.

We regret that by an oversight mention of the death of Mrs. Laura Crendall and George L. Miller was omitted from our French Corral items. Both were ex-residents of the San Juan Ridge.

Mrs. Laura Crendall was a native of the town of Sweetland, when her childhood and girlhood days were spent until her marriage to the late T. P. Crandal,l a merchant of North Bloomfield. In the latter place she made her home until after the death of her husband. She was a woman of charming personality and had a host of friends. Her death recalls the memory of her noble pioneer parents Mr. and Mrs. Mobley. The latter of whom survived her husband by many years and as "Auntie Mobley" was known and beloved by every one as her life record was one long list of kindness. Oh these noble pioneer mothers! The very memory of them instills goodness. Mrs. Crandall is survived by a daughter Mss. Evelyn and a sister Mrs. J. Ostroim and brother Judge W. G. Mobley of Nevada City.

DONALD STEGER HOME NEARING COMPLETION

The cosy five room home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Steger is fast nearing completion. It is located at the west end of Prospect street adjoining the home of Mrs. Flynn.

It is of English type with a big cement basement and cement foundation.

They have built the house so that a number of nice English walnut and fruit trees in the yard were not injured.

They have a beautiful view of the surrounding country and ample room for a nice yard.

Young Steger who is of the contracting firms of Steger and Sons, is being assisted by his father and brother in the work.

KERSEY OPPOSES FREE TEXT BOOK FUND SLASH

SACRAMENTO, Auril 3—(UP)—Vigorous opposition to an economy proposal calling for a $313,925 reduction in the state's appropriation for free textbooks for elementary school use, was voiced today by Vierling Kersey, state superintendend of public instruction.

This reduction, which represents 29.2 per cent of the state's contribution, is contained in the governor's 1933-35 budget.

A report just issued by the state department of education and covering the biennium ending June 30, 1932 reveals that free textbook purchases for elementary schools in Nevada county totaled $1,231.

STATE PRINTING OFFICE

Kersey said the proposed economy would not only "further deplete the tools of education of which California has never had a complete set, but will mean a slash in personnel of the state printing office."

"This slash in text book funds," Kersey emphasized, "cannot help but lower standards of educational efficiency.

"The state never has supplied sufficient money to equip elementary schools with the required books. We are still using textbooks written 20 years ago. They're so obsolete even the children laugh at them."

UNSANITARY BOOKS

Kersey pointed out that the life of the ordinary textbook was not more than four years. He said condition of thousands of books now used is unsanitary and dog-eared.

Half of the cost of furnishing free text books to elementary schools has been borne by the local school districts, the school superintendent said.

The proposed reduction will be opposed by organized labor, parent teachers associations and educational authorities, the official said. He added they were "concerned over this new threat to reduce educational efficiency and cause loss of employment in the state printing plant."

"Expense for textbooks for the 784,293 pupils in elementary schools during the current biennium amounts to but 65 cents annually per pupil," Kersey said. "The proposed reduction would slash this by 20 cents."

BEER ARGUMENT

LODI (UP) Beer of 3.2 per cent may not be intoxicating, but the arguments about it certainly have a wallop. Herman Weidener received a battered ear and Lawrence Mapes was arrested on a charge of assault.
